CHERRY PECTORAL

For the Cure of

COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

Of all the numerous medicines extant, (and many of them valuable) for the cure of pulmonary complaints nothing has ever been found which could compare in its effects with this Preparation. Others give some ease, but at all times and in all diseases of the lungs and throat where medicine can give relief, this will do it. It is pleasant to take, and perfectly safe in accordance with the directions. We do not advertise for the information of those that have tried it but those who have not. Families who have once used it will use no other, and public lecturers find it invaluable for clearing the throat when clergymen have exhausted themselves. Even those cases of Consumption which have baffled the skill of physicians, and been pronounced incurable, yield to this remedy, and many living witnesses in every section of the country, certify that they were restored to health by it, after they had given up all other medicines and all hope.

While it will not cure all that are afflicted, it has cured a large proportion of those who have taken it, and relieved almost every case in which it has failed. Many of the most astonishing cures of Coughs and Colds, even those of long standing, have been made known to us, which we deem unnecessary to publish, as the Cherry Pectoral is now so universally known to be the most certain remedy in existence for all diseases of the Throat and Lungs.

J. J. MORTON, M. D. P. S.

See what it has done, on a wasted constitution, not only in the following cases, but all around us:

(Rochester, Jan. 28th, 1851.

Dr. Ayer—In the month of July last, I was attacked by violent Hemorrhage in the lungs of California. I returned to San Francisco in hope of receiving benefit from a change of climate and diet. My disease increased but slightly, and I was advised to go home, as my only chance. I arrived in New York, I was at once marked by my acquaintances as a victim of consumption. I must confess that I saw no real reason to doubt it, as my friends all believed. At the time of commencing your medicine I could scarcely walk across the room without resting. Within two weeks after I commenced taking your Cherry Pectoral, I felt myself receive three times its cost in value. I continued its use for six weeks, and am now in the full enjoyment of health. I am satisfied that I owe my recovery entirely to the use of your Cherry Pectoral.

Yours truly, WILLIAM W. SMITH.

Dear Sir—Having in November, 1847, been attacked in a premature grave through your instrumentality by the providence of God, I will take the liberty to express to you my gratitude.

A cough and the alarming symptoms of Consumption had rendered me unable to leave me anything like hope, when my physician in the last moment handed me your Pectoral. It relieved me almost instantly, and now (in a few weeks time) I have restored me to sound health.

If it will be for others what it has for me, you are certainly one of the benefactors of mankind.

Sincerely wishing you long life, I am

Yours respectfully, JOHN J. CLARKE, Rector of St. Peter's Church.

With such testimonials from such men, no stronger proof can be adduced unless it be from its effects upon trial.

WHITE ZINC PAINT,

After thorough test and trial in this and the United States, has been found to retain its beauty and protective qualities longer than any other paint. For whiteness and brilliancy, it is unrivalled; it is free from all poisonous properties so common and dangerous in other ingredients, will cover, equal weight, from 40 to 100 per cent more surface than lead, and is therefore, much cheaper in the consumer. As an iron paint, it will not turn yellow even when exposed to the sulphurous gases of coal fires or the fumes of ships. Their White Zinc ground in vars. oil produces the porcelain finish.

Their

Brown and Black Zinc Paints

in a few hours form a hard and solid metallic coating upon wood, brick, iron and other materials, and are remarkable for their fire proof properties. They are specially adapted for marine purposes, having been found to resist the corroding action of salt water, so destructive to other paints.

HERE IS YOUR REMEDY.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

A MOST MIRACULOUS CURE OF BAD LEGS, AFTER 45 YEARS' SUFFERING.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. William Galpin, of 70, St. Mary's Street, Weymouth, dated May 15th, 1851.

To Professor Holloway,

SIR,—At the age of 45 I was (who is now 61) caught a violent cold, which settled in my legs, and for much that time they have been more or less sore and greatly inflamed. My agonies were distressing, and for months together she was deprived entirely of rest and sleep. Every remedy that medical men advised was tried, but without effect; her health suffered severely, and the state of my legs was terrible. I had recourse to your advertisements, and advice at the Sixty was Pills and Ointment, as a last resource, and before I had proceeded through the second pot of the Ointment, and taken a few boxes of the Pills, I perceived a great change for the better, and now, after using your Pills and Ointment for three months, I am happy to say I am entirely cured. Her legs are quite well without scar or scale, and can stand sound and well as ever. Could you have witnessed the suffering of my wife during the last 15 years, in contrast this with her present enjoyment of health you will indeed feel gratified in having been the means of so greatly alleviating the misfortune of a fellow creature.

(Signed) WILLIAM GALPIN.

A PERSON AFFLICTED FOR UPWARDS OF A HALF A YEAR WITH A BAD LEG, AND WHO HAD TRIED ALL KINDS OF REMEDIES WITHOUT EFFECT.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Wm. Ayres, of Gas Office, to Mr. Holloway, dated Hadleigh, the 1st May 51.

To Professor Holloway,

SIR,—I feel it a duty I owe to myself and the public to inform you of the wonderful cure effected in my case by your Pills and Ointment. For upwards of half a year I was afflicted with a bad leg, which baffled the skill of the most eminent surgeons in this neighborhood, and I was at last induced to try your Pills and Ointment, which I am happy to say have entirely cured me, and I am now free from pain, and my leg is perfectly healed. I have no hesitation in recommending your Pills and Ointment to the public, as I am sure they will do all that is said of them.

(Signed) WILLIAM ABBS.

The truth of the above statements can be verified by Mr. W. Ingle, Chemist, 18 Market street, Hadleigh.

PURCHASERS should be particular to ask for HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and OINTMENT, as spurious imitations are sold under similar names.

Sold at the Establishment of Professor Holloway, 244, Strand, (near Temple Bar), London, and by all respectable Venders of Patent Medicines, throughout the United States, the Canadas, and the British Provinces, at 25 cts., 62 cts and $1 each.

LIFE OF GENERAL SCOTT.

SCOTT IN THE HANDS OF THE ENEMY.

The fortune of war thus threw our hero into the hands of the enemy, after a series of engagements that established his fame and character as a man of great personal daring, highly commanding prudence, and an accomplished and skillful leader. Throughout these interesting scenes he had manifested the most intrepid spirit, and unquestioned gallantry of behavior. He was always in battle in full dress uniform, and his tall stature (full six feet five inches) made him a conspicuous mark. He was singled out, especially by the Indians, as a target for their rifles, but remained unwounded. He was urged on one occasion of great personal peril to change his dress. "No," said he, "I will die in my robes!" At the moment of his exclamation, Captain Lawrence fell at his side by a shot from the enemy.

SCOTT ATTACKED BY TWO INDIAN CHIEFS.

After the surrender, Scott, with the rest of the prisoners, was taken to the village of Niagara. Scott himself was lodged at an inn, under guard. Shortly after his arrival, a message came to him that some one wished to speak with the "tall American." Scott advanced into the entry to receive his visitor. What was his surprise to find, two armed Indians, hideously painted, as in battle. He recognized them as two warriors who attempted to slay him at the surrender at Queenstown. One was a distinguished chief known as Captain Jacobs, and the other a son of the celebrated Brandt. They had come to tomahawk the former leader, who had proved invincible to their bullets. They communicated to him as well as they were able how often they had unsuccessfully discharged their rifles at him. Jacobs, heated by his disappointments, rudely seized Scott by the arm, under pretence of seeing if he could find no bullet marks on his person. Scott resented the indignity, and thrust the savage from him. "We kill you now!" was the immediate exclamation of both Indians. Scott tore himself from them, and instantaneously sprang to right of arms, and seized upon a heavy sword that lay opportunely with others in the entry, and dashed upon his assailants. They cowered before his uplifted blade and determined front, and feared to strike. His world have given them to the earth, but for the prompt interference of an British officer, who, attracted by the noise at that critical moment, came upon the parties, and arrested the affray at the instant our hero was about to inflict summary punishment upon his frightful and ferocious antagonists.

SCOTT AND THE IRISH PRISONERS.

Among the prisoners taken by the British at Queenstown with Scott, were about sixty naturalized citizens, a large portion of whom were Irishmen. The British authorities claimed the right, and expressed the determination, to hang them as traitors. These, with Scott and the rest of the prisoners, all bound to Boston to be exchanged. The British officers, and on board and began to taunt the Irishmen, whom they intended to send home to grace the gallows. The officers had no sure means of confessing the Irish but by their brogue or their countenance. Scott, who was looking what was going on, mediately rushed on deck, and told his afflicted men to hold their peace. Then turning to the British officers, he boldly denounced their proceedings, and threatened a like retaliation upon British prisoners if they dared to execute a single man of his countrymen.

The officers haughtily commanded him that he was his prisoner, and ordered him into the cabin. He was not a man to be intimidated, and refused to go, and again called upon the Irish soldiers to resolve no more quarter. A high quarrel ensued, but the result was that no more of the prisoners could be identified as Irishmen, for they would not open their lips. The officers, however, had already selected twenty-three before, Scott made his appearance. These were separated, from their fellow-prisoners and put on board a frigate, and dispatched to England to be hung. But they did not go until Scott had solemnly warned the British authorities that he would murder every man they dared to lay violent hands upon, by a terrible retribution upon the first English prisoners that should fall into his hands after he should be liberated.

Scott was soon exchanged. How faithfully he kept his promise we shall see. He proceeded at once to Washington and obtained the passage, by Congress of a law to retaliate upon British prisoners any such outrage as was threatened at Quebec. He again fought and conquered. He had prisoners in plenty. He forthwith selected twenty-three of genuine English decent (for he desired no wolf put on sheep's Irish), and told them as best he could for the doomed twenty-three Irishmen taken home to be executed. He then communicated to the British authorities what he had done, and informed them that if they failed to execute their threat on the twenty-three Irishmen, the twenty-three Englishmen should pay the penalty by promptly sharing the same fate. The consequence was, that the lives of the Irishmen were spared, and at the close of the war they were exchanged from England, and shortly after arrived in New York.

Singularly enough, it so happened, that on the very day of the landing of these old comrades of General Scott on the wharf, their commander and friend, then still suffering from his wounds, passed along the quay on foot. He was instantly recognized by the now liberated prisoners,

New England Female Medical College.

Our readers will recollect the interest awakened in this city, four years since by Dr. Gregory in a then contemplated institution for the preparation of Females for attending upon the sick, particularly in cases among their own sex. The institution has been established, and has met the most sanguine expectations of its friends. A number of our citizens proposed at the time to send one pupil to the College and a partial subscription was obtained for the purpose, but the money never was called for, nor a selection made of the person to be sent.

An agent of this College, Mrs. Goulding, has arrived in this city for the purpose of procuring subscriptions in aid of it, and will be happy to communicate any information in her power to the friends of the College and of the cause of educating females for the duty of acting as physicians and midwives. Mrs. Goulding is stopping for the present, at the Hatch House, where she will be happy to receive visits and state the plan which the friends of female physicians have allotted in the management of their Institution.

This subject is an important one, and we trust that the plan of sending from Bangor a pupil to the College, will be started afresh and this time prove successful. At any rate the subject is one which should engage fairly a portion of the attention of our people.

A Lot of Young Rascals.

Within a few days, several stores have been broken open in this city, and small sums of change taken. The Savings Bank has also been broken into in expectation of finding money deposited there, but in this they were disappointed, as the funds of this Bank are deposited elsewhere. A house on Essex street has been entered by boring out a portion of one of the doors.

All these places were doubtless entered by boys, and it is known that the dwelling house was so entered, as one of the neighbors saw the boys go through the yard, and into the barn from whence they bored into the house.

These boys made an attempt upon another house, but the family were at home, and they then inquired for "Mr. Kirkland." We trust that the Police will be able to lay their hands upon these young hopefuls, and place them under such discipline as shall give security to the public.

"Rigid adherence to Whig Principles"—is the motto of Mr Webster now, as it ever has been. No man will find him giving countenance to what one or two of his industrious friends in Boston have threatened—bolting a regular Whig nomination. He has been too long a true Whig—too long the political and personal friend of Gen. Scott to encourage any dissatisfaction.

NEW ORLEANS, 2nd. At the Whig ratification meeting last evening, the Baltimore platforms was adopted and the nominations warmly endorsed.

The Circus and Menagerie.

The recent exhibitions of the Circus and Menagerie combined, in this city, have been very numerously attended, not only by the people in the city but by the people and thousands from the neighboring towns and to the satisfaction of all. We certainly have never witnessed the performances of a Circus better calculated to interest and amuse than this and the pageant of St. George and the Dragon is certainly very brilliant, and performed with much taste.

A correspondent has given his views upon the subject, and we give place to his remarks:

The combined troops of J. R. Sands & Co's Circus, and G. C. Quick & Co.'s Menagerie, have given a series of their popular performances in this city to crowded houses at every performance, indeed, their success has been almost unprecedented. The voice of the public is loud in their praise, as affording a species of innocent amusement, pleasing to the eye and certainly gratifying to the mind of the beholder. In the equestrian department there is much to excite wonder, and we hardly know which most to admire, the dashing equestrianism, or the astonishing feats of agility which are exhibited in a hundred different ways by the performers, the trappings of the horses are new and gorgeous, and lend an indescribable brilliancy and effect to their exhibitions. In the Zoological department are many of the rarest animals that attend, seldom have we noticed finer specimens of lion, tiger or leopards, the whole forming a collection of excellence that deserves praise and a liberal patronage.

With such a collection, and so much enterprise as has been exhibited by the proprietors, it is rather surprising that they have subjected themselves to a gross and libelous attack from the Ellsworth Herald, which in good set terms denounces Circuses generally, and in such a manner as to cause it to apply to this establishment as a humbug, the performers impotent, the jokes low and vulgar, the dresses unbecoming and calculated to excite hostile desires, and the whole affair a fit target for public execration, the article being calculated to arouse the worst feelings of an educated community to the injury of the life and property of the proprietors. And why is this done? Because the thing would not pay an exorbitant demand for an advertisement. Such performances as are given by the company need no defenders, the "get of it" is given for the people patronize it and get the full worth of their money, a better show there could not be given. The people require amusement as much as they require food or raiment, and they get what they pay for here. The editor says he objects to them on account of the general system they adopt to cheat wherever they go. What a libel and that very false, not in the aphorism, "live and let live." How inconsistent with the fact. If the Circus company is to pay and pay promptly and liberally too, it is a Circus company, thousands of dollars they leave in a city and often on account of their great expense much more than they take. They give employment to hundreds of laboring, the hotel keepers reap a rich harvest by it, so does the provision dealer; the town receives handsome license fee to enrich the public coffers, and in fact almost every trade receives more or less benefit from the money thus given, and yet the editor of the Herald says proprietors gather all they can, but never refer. Seriously this species of threat is to practical exhibitions is unwise and impolitic, in this age of enterprise and liberality will never be countenanced, only by the low minded or the stiff necked and bigoted, who have no respect of hocus pocus or attention to the newer progress and civilization.

COMMISSIONER OF BOUNTY.—The New York Evening Post,—formerly a Free Soil, but now a Hard Shell Hunker organ—gives the list of fourteen members of Congress, "certain Whigs" who, it says, will not support Scott. "Nonetheless Whigs," it appears, were Whigs four years ago, or when Taylor was nominated. Among the names in the Post list are those of that fine old Whig, Joshua R. Giddings, Horace Mann and Charles Allen. Who has ever supposed such men as these Whigs as those would vote for Scott, or any other Whig candidate? The name of Amos Tuck also appears among the others, but we think without any authority. That of Charles Sumner is omitted altogether from the list. Most of the balance of the fourteen are Van Buren men from the South, who were long since read out of the Whig party, and who have not been in connection with it for years.

Three Young Men Drowned.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier.

NORTH EDGEWORTH July 2, 1852.

A melancholy accident occurred in this place a short time since, by which three young men lost their lives. A passing notice of which appears in your city papers of the fact, without the circumstances.

I have thought proper, in justice to the memory of the deceased, to state the circumstances of this melancholy event, for the information of their friends abroad.

On the evening of the 16th ult. Webster Jellison aged 18 years, son of Wm. Jellison Esq., of this place, about 7 o'clock in the evening walked down to Simeons Tannery to bathe in a small pond. On this way he fell in with Nehemiah Wentworth, aged 18, son of John Wentworth; and Enoch Grant aged 16, son of Samuel Grant; who accompanied him. On their arrival at the water, Grant went in first, and being unacquainted with the depth of the water with beyond his knees, and could not swim was drowned. Webster Jellison seeing his situation, although he could not swim, plunged in to his rescue, Grant sank while Jellison struggled for life, and Wentworth plunged in to rescue him, and melancholy to relate, they all found a watery grave.

There were then small boys present, who gave the alarm which brought several men upon the spot, who drew off the pond in a few minutes, and their bodies were recovered in not over thirty minutes, but the vital sparks had fled.—Thirty more minutes brought upon the spot three Fathers, three Mothers, and nearly twenty brothers, sisters and other friends—and the scene which ensued, may God long spare me from again witnessing.

The men were employed from time to time by Eternity, three young men in the bloom and prime of life, with thirty minutes before had the prospect as long as any three men could.

Webster Jellison had a good acquaintance, he was a young man of unblemished character, of steady habits, and correct rules of life, and his sudden departure is a loss to his friends and friends, he being the third very promising son which has died from the same family within a few years.

With the other two young men I was not so much acquainted, but they were as mentioned of their parents and friends, as was Webster. This is the third son that Mr. Grant has lost in a very few days during.

Time it is, that in the midst of life we are in death.

A NEIGHBOR.

For the Whig and Courier.

The Curtailment.

MR. EDITOR—Being a Democrat living in my town of Hampden, and having always supported the democratic ticket, I think I have a right to speak out freely upon the doings of that party. Having been for many years a delegate to the democratic conventions, with something of an oath, secures the rank and file under his immediate orders, that all they supposed the party was to have an easy victory, they would awake some morning in November to see most sadly disappointed. They felt it in their bones.

FOR THE ARCTURUS GOLD MINING CO.—The second ship for this newly discovered Ophir—the Revenue, Capt. Crew—cleared at New York, Friday, for Port Phillip, with as many adventurers as she could accommodate, comprising all ages and sexes. Many of them were from this British Provinces. The first vessel, the Helena, sailed a few weeks since; and three others, the Magnolia, Expansionista, and John Scott, will soon follow.

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE.—The Methodist Conference which held its session at Rutland, Vt., on Monday last, through the liberality of the Vermont Central Railroad and the Champlain Line St Lawrence Company were furnished with a free passage to Montreal, where the members enjoyed the hospitalities of their brethren of the Methodist Societies of that city.

☞ The Whig State Central Committee of Ohio have recommended that a Mass Ratification Convention assemble in Columbus on Thursday, the 22d day of July, being the day following the Delegate State Convention, to ratify, confirm, and respond to the nomination of Scott and Graham.

☞ Gov. Powell, of Kentucky, tendered the Secretaryship to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Clay's death, to Hon. John Guthrie, but he declined.

Gen. Pierce will undoubtedly receive the bulk of the Irish votes in the present Presidential campaign. In 1848 Gen. Scott committed himself, decidedly, to the measures of the Native American Party, and Gen. Pierce is descended from a respectable Irish family, who settled in Londonderry, New Hampshire, many years ago.—[Times.

Pooh! the Irish are not fools, to be caught with such blarney as that. They well know what Gen. Scott more recently has said of the Irish character, and they very well know that they did not vote against Gen. Taylor because the Natives first nominated him. As for Gen. Pierce being descended from a "respectable Irish family," does the Times mean to imply that Irish families generally are not respectable? The truth is, Gen. Pierce is descended from what are called the "Derry Irish," or "Scotch Irish," between whom and the Milesian race the feud is more bitter than between Irish and Saxon. The Derry Irish are inveterate Protestants, and they settled not only, Derry in New Hampshire, but quite a large portion of the State. It was their influence which engrafted upon the fundamental law of New Hampshire, the clause which prevents any but a Protestant from holding office; a clause which still exists, to stamp with falsehood the loud-mouthed professions of New Hampshire democrats. When you catch Irish votes with such silly appeals to their prejudices as the one we have quoted, you will catch a vessel sailed.—Mail.

☞ The Locos Nose are always anxious that the whigs should have a really "good" presidential candidate—such a one for instance, as they would select Mr. Cullom of Tennessee, at the Whig ratification meeting in Washington said, in the course of his speech,—"The Democrats said to us when General Taylor was nominated, 'He is a rusty old blade. If you want a military man, why don't you take Gen. Scott?' 'No,' said they, 'is a real General for you; he is not only skilled in war, but in civil diplomacy.' When they talked in this way we told them 'just hold still and we will give you a hasty plate of soup, next time.'"

BOSTINGS.—The Kenosha Telegraph don't like the sacrifice of the distinguished men of the democratic party; and says no one expects Pierce will be elected, if Scott is nominated by the Whigs."

The Cleveland True Democrat announces that "no Hunker, in all Christendom, could be more pro-slavery than the nominee of the Democracy. He has been the embodiment of it, in New Hampshire, and has done all he could, to arm the South with powers which should enable it to hound the fugitive at the North, and plant the curse of Slavery on Free Soil."—Chicago Journal.

THE SCOTT FEELING IN MICHIGAN.—General John R. Williams, one of the prominent Opposition politicians, and for several years Mayor of Detroit, supports the election of Scott and Graham, and is one of the Vice Presidents of the Detroit Scott Club. Maj Jonathan Kearsley, of Detroit, who was badly crippled in the defence of his country, and a leader in the Opposition ranks, is for Scott. These are important accessions to the Scott phalanx, and an indication of public sentiment in the North-west. Gen. Williams signalized himself in the Black Hawk War, and has an old resident of Detroit, possessed of much influence.—N. Y. Tribune.

☞ The New Orleans Bee, which was a strenuous advocate for the nomination of Mr. Fillmore, heartily supports the nomination of Scott and Graham.

"We express our profound conviction in saying, that this ticket will command the hearty and unanimous support of the Whigs, and will obtain accessions from the Democratic ranks.—We believe in his election, for Old Chapultepec never has been beaten on any field where he commanded. 80 fine cheers for Winfield Scott and Wm. A. Graham, Jr!"

☞ Father Ritchie said of Gen. Scott, in the Washington Union, 1848:

"General Scott is an older soldier than Gen. Taylor, one who is at least equally, if not more accomplished, and who has distinguished himself by more, and as brilliant battles during the war—who captured Vera Cruz, and the castle and capital of Mexico, and one, too, who has the qualities of a statesman, and is better known as a Whig."

BALTIMORE, July 6.

The cars from Washington this morning with Secretary Webster and lady, on board, were thrown off the track 4 miles the other side of the Relay House, causing considerable delay to them. Fortunately no one was injured.—Mr. W. left at 11 o'clock A. for Philadelphia.

☞ The total loss by fire in Boston for the first half of the year, 1852, is estimated at a quarter of a million of dollars, nearly a hundred thousand dollars more than during the same period in 1851.

☞ The Special Committee appointed to examine the Census work, have reported that a large portion of it ought not to be published, being inaccurate and worthless.

OBSTACLES AND GATHERINGS IN LONDON AND THE GREAT EXHIBITION. By Wm. A. Drew.

We have before us a handsome volume containing the letters of Rev. Mr. Drew of Augusta, editor of the Gospel Banner, who was special commissioner from Maine at the great exhibition in London of the World's Industry. Mr. Drew is a very clear observer, and his descriptive powers are very fine, enabling him to draw word-pictures of surpassing force, naturalness and life. He was just the man to catch objects on the pinions of the passing days in London and to give them to the American public. In the shape in this paper, in a series of most admirable and popular letters. Since his return home he has carefully revised and rewritten these letters, and they are now published, in good style, in a handsome volume for frequent reading and for preservation. The volume is an agreeable contribution to the literature of the country, and will be found a pleasant book for the family book shelf.

The work may be found at the store of M. S. Jackson on Exchange street and at the Book stores.

Cholera.

THE first forms of the malady for Bowel Complaints has appeared and a few cases nearly approaching Cholera have been, or already frightfully are, in many dangerous characters, have shown themselves. No medicine has ever yet been offered to the public which has been found to possess one hundredth part the worth of

"HARDY'S CHOLERA PREVENTIVE."

And effectual cure for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery and Diarrhea.

Cholera, in its first stages has always yielded to it, and I will warrant it a safe, safe and speedy cure for the above complaints named—come to me and I will show the strongest proofs of the correctness of this statement.

CARRIAGES!

Patronise Home Manufactures.

WE are manufacturing Light Carriages of every description which we are prepared to warrant equal to any in the market, without any exception. We have purchased the right to use a patent attachment for Four Wheeled Carriages, whereby Carriages can be made to turn in a very small compass, describing a circle of fifteen, also avoiding the grating noise occasioned by turning (which is desirable,) as the wheels do not come in contact with the body. We would therefore recommend that we hold ourselves responsible for the fair merits of our work in consequence of the use of poor stock or work.

We also manufacture Elliptic and Side Springs of a superior quality.

Jobbing in every branch promptly attended to at fair prices.

Thousands of families use only of the money but also of the most eminent and established many of the first physicians of this city and of other places witness that Coffee made with this Essence is much wholesomer, more delicate, finer flavored, perfectly clear, and in every instance better than the best Java Coffee.

This Essence was awarded a silver medal by the American Institute of New York, also a premium by the Franklin Institute of Philadelphia, 1851, in both institutes the highest premium for such articles.

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS WITH U. S. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON.

No. 22 State Street, . . Boston.

IN 1840 the subscriber was appointed by the Commissioner of Patents, Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, in accordance with the 10th Sec. of Act of '37.

Having re-established the Agency for the transmission of Models, and adopted a more expeditious mode of sending them to the Patent Office, whereby a Patent may be procured about six weeks earlier than the customary time, he would respectfully solicit the continuance of the patronage of Inventors, and all the necessary Papers and Drawings for Patents; and tender advice on legal and scientific matters respecting the same. Patents secured in Europe under one agency.

By application at this office, inventors are saved the time and expense of journeying to Washington and delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. They also have the advantage of personally explaining their invention, and of consulting in respect to them, matters in general, of paramount importance, in order to obtain correct specifications and claims. The experience of sixteen years' practice, an extensive collection of rare works, decisions, &c on mechanical subjects, the Patent Laws, and patents of different countries, collected at much expense during the long time this office has been established, together with accounts here kept of inventions patented at Washington, enable the subscriber to afford inventors, desirous of procuring Patents, assistance and information which in other respects might be difficult of attainment.

C. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

WASHINGTON, JULY 21, 1849.—During the time I occupied the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. EDDY, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor for procuring Patents. There were few, if any, persons, acting in that capacity, who had as much business before the Patent Office, and there were done who so justly merited the confidence and esteem. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring Inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure, for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Tuft's Magnetic Ointment,

A [illegible]

DR. FONTAINE'S BALM OF A THOUSAND FLOWERS.

For the Toilet, the Nursery, for Bathing, and many Medicinal Purposes.

HIGHLY perfumed by its own ingredients. Recommended by the faculty of almost every European city, and established under the patronage of Queens. Every Physician in London and Paris, and thousands of individuals and dealers daily use of it in New York, Philadelphia and Boston.—It is the greatest luxury a lady or gentleman could wish for, the improvement of health, long comfort and personal embellishment, and its delicate and lasting sensation, and the delightful softness it imparts to the complexion.

We give a few of the prominent properties of the already well established by actual experience.

Balm of a Thousand Flowers

FIRST.—This Balm remedies every defect of the Complexion,

And establishes in its stead Beauty and Health, as the lilies when both by the charges of sun, or freaks of nature, or disease, have been exhausted and undermined—it cleanses the skin, and draws to the surface all impurities, and every species of pimples and blotches, also removes tan, sunburns, sallowness and freckles, imparting to the skin its original purity, and an unsurpassed freshness, rendering it clear, smooth, and white.

SECOND.—It promotes the Growth and increase of the Hair, causing it to Curl in the most natural manner.

It cleanses the head from dandruff, giving vigor health and life to the very roots of the hair.

THIRD.—This a superior article for Shaving being superior to all descriptions of Soaps, Creams, Pastes, &c.

As a DENTIFRICE for cleansing the Teeth, it is by far the most delicious of any compound yet discovered, preventing decay, relieving pain, polishes and whitens, and renders the teeth as white as alabaster. For bathing, for sufering infants and for adults the prompte awakened of body, delightfulness, health and strength, and to prevent eruptions, &c., there is nothing more desirable than this BALM. It may be used in cold or warm water, hard or soft water.

If you'd sooner, Wolves must surely kill,
And Foxes, too, they Hunters will,
Put nothing but in grain the Pill
The victim drops, then Hunters call.

BRANT'S INDIAN

PULMONARY BALSAM,

The Great COUGH REMEDY.

Many years of experience, and more than a Hundred Thousand Cases of Consumptive Complaints, have proved to the undoubted satisfaction of all persons, who have become acquainted with this wonderful remedy, that it is really superior, to anything in soothing and healing the tender and delicate membranes of the Lungs, than any other Remedy in the world. We show, however, that it is said to some that Consumption can be cured. Can be cured. Can be cured. In the hands of a few, we shall not attempt to argue with parents, that we will cure and do cure it as a fact, which can be proved in thousands of instances, that persons, after they have been given over by their friends, and pronounced by the doctors, as incurable, and after they had tried all other remedies without effect, before the disease was fastened upon the vitals, were cured. Consumption, and which were attended with all the usual symptoms, and were in all respects like those of others who did die, and who could have done with that fatal disease Consumption. This Balsam has cured thousands of persons who were given up by the faculty, and by good friends, as wasting Consumptives, from the first to the last stages of the disease, Night Sweats—and wasting away of the flesh, Pain in the Breast, Side, and Shoulders, *Difficulty of Breathing—Purulent Expectoration—Hectic Fever—
